

DREAD NATION

by Justina Ireland

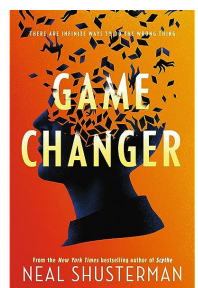

The course of the American Civil War was altered forever when the dead began to walk the battlefields of Pennsylvania. This novel follows Jane, a young black girl who has been trained to fight the dead. But when she gets caught up in a conspiracy and ends up in a fight for her life, the dead are the least of her worries.

ANIMAL FARM

by George Orwell

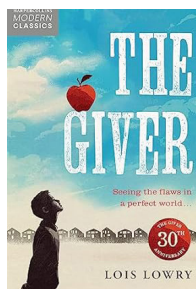

The animals of Manor Farm overthrow their master, the farmer Mr Jones and take over the farm themselves, hoping for a life of freedom and equality. But eventually a hierarchy appears amongst the animals and the pigs try to take control.

GAME CHANGER

by Neal Shusterman

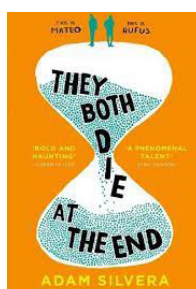

All it takes is one hit on the football field, and high schooler Ash finds himself in an alternate dimension. As he bounces into worlds that are almost-but-not-really his own, he starts to question everything, including his own perceptions and place in his own reality. But can he even work out how to get back there?

THE GIVER

by Lois Lowry

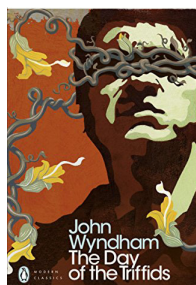

Jonas lives in a world where pain and suffering have been eliminated. There is no poverty or crime, but everyone is the same. When he takes the role of 'receiver of memory', he becomes one of the only people to understand how this world came about.

THEY BOTH DIE AT THE END

by Adam Silvera

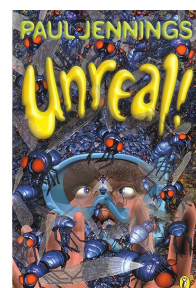

In a world where an organisation called Death-Cast tells people that they're going to die in the next 24 hours, two strangers meet up on the day they're due to die for one last great adventure.

THE DAY OF THE TRIFFIDS

by John Wyndham

A freak cosmic event turns most of the population blind, but a lucky few retain their sight. As the blind and sighted try to adapt, another menace appears. The Triffids, lethal plants that can move around, start to hunt humans with lethal stingers and carnivorous appetites.
